LIFE AND DI PLANS FOR 2011 AND BEYOND!

In 1973, the first cell phone call was made by Martin Cooper and his team at Motorola. The "DynaTAC", the first commercial cell phone, hit the market in 1983 and cost about $3,900. It was the size of a brick and weighted about 2 1/2 pounds. Today cell phones are much smaller, lighter and cheaper. They can make calls, send text messages, browse the web and do much more. We've come a long way from the first cell phone.

The same is true for Group Life & DI Plans. Yet many of the plans we find today are the same ones that were available in 1983. Allied Brokerage Services and Capital Benefits Group are now offering Life and DI Plans that are making these old plans obsolete. Consider the Confident Core Life & DI plans with Optional Buy-Ups and the Confident Voluntary Life & DI plans for your next sale. We will gladly take the information over the phone and send you a proposal via email. So call us today at 888-402-7204 or email us at sales@allied-brokerage.com.
